Enesco Precious Moments Price Guide

Enesco Precious Moments figurines have captured the hearts of collectors and gift-givers alike since their introduction in the 1970s. Created by artist Sam Butcher, these charming porcelain figures depict children and various endearing scenes that resonate with themes of love, friendship, and faith. As with many collectible items, understanding the pricing of Precious Moments can be essential for both collectors and those looking to sell or purchase these delightful pieces. In this article, we will explore the factors influencing the prices of Enesco Precious Moments figurines, provide a detailed price guide, and offer tips for collectors.

The History of Precious Moments Figurines

Precious Moments began in 1978 when Sam Butcher and a group of artists collaborated to create figurines based on his illustrations. The first figurines were produced by Enesco, a company specializing in giftware. The unique features of Precious Moments, such as the large teardrop-shaped eyes and the heartwarming themes, quickly made them popular.

Over the years, Enesco has released thousands of different figurines, each with its own unique story and appeal. As a result, the collection has grown significantly, leading to a robust market for both new and retired pieces.

Factors Influencing Pricing

Understanding the price of Precious Moments figurines requires consideration of several factors:

1. Rarity

- Limited Editions: Figurines produced in limited quantities often fetch higher prices due to their scarcity.
- Retired Pieces: Once a figurine is retired, it can become highly sought after, driving up its market value.

2. Condition

- Mint Condition: Figurines that have never been displayed or damaged are more valuable.
- Original Packaging: If the original box is intact, it can significantly increase the figurine's value.

3. Demand

- Popularity: Some designs resonate more with collectors, leading to increased demand and, subsequently, higher prices.

- Trends: Collectibles can fluctuate in value based on current trends in the market.

4. Age

- Older Pieces: Generally, older figurines cost more, especially those from the earlier years of production.

5. Artist Signature

- Signed Pieces: Figurines that bear the artist's signature can be worth more than unsigned ones.
