Understanding the Fishing Log

The Fishing Log is a journal-like feature that records all the fish you have caught throughout your journey in Eorzea. It categorizes fish by region, water type, and even by the time of day, helping you to identify where and when to fish for specific species.

To access your Fishing Log, follow these steps:

1. Open your menu by pressing the "ESC" key or the corresponding button on your controller.
2. Navigate to the "Logs" tab.
3. Select "Fishing Log" from the available options.

Your Fishing Log will display a list of fish you have caught, along with details such as:

- Location: The specific area where you caught the fish.
- Water Type: Indicates whether the spot is fresh, salt, or ocean water.
- Time of Day: Some fish can only be caught during specific hours.
- Bait: Lists the type of bait that works best for each fish.

Types of Fish

FFXIV features a vast array of fish, each with unique characteristics. Fish can generally be divided into several categories:

1. Freshwater Fish: Found in lakes and rivers.
2. Saltwater Fish: Found in oceans and coastal waters.
3. Special Fish: Rare fish that may require specific conditions to catch, such as weather changes or rare bait.

Each type of fish has its own requirements for catching, making it essential to understand the differences.

Notable Fish Categories

Some notable fish categories in the Fishing Log include:

- Common Fish: These are the most frequently caught species and are available in almost all fishing locations.
- Rare Fish: These fish are harder to find and may require special bait or conditions, such as specific weather.
- Legendary Fish: The most challenging to catch, these fish often require quests or special events to be available.

Eorzea is home to numerous fishing spots, each offering different species of fish. Here are some of the most popular fishing locations:

1. Gridania: Known for its freshwater fish, with many spots along the rivers and lakes.

Bait is crucial for attracting specific fish. Different fish require different types of bait. Here's a quick list of common bait types:

- Worms: Good for catching common freshwater fish.
- Shrimp: Effective for attracting a variety of saltwater fish.
- Lures: Specialized bait that can attract rare fish.

Make sure to check your Fishing Log to see which bait works best for each species.

Mastering Fishing Techniques

Fishing in FFXIV is not merely about waiting for a fish to bite; it involves mastering various techniques to increase your catch rate.

Using the Fishing Interface

When you cast your line, watch the fishing interface carefully:

1. Casting: Use the "cast" button to throw your line into the water. Pay attention to the distance; some fish prefer deeper waters.
2. Waiting: Be patient and watch for bubbles, indicating that a fish is nibbling.
3. Reeling: Once you see the fish bite (indicated by a splash), use the "reel" button to catch it. Timing is crucial; reel too early or too late, and the fish may escape.

Weather and Time of Day

Many fish are affected by the time of day and weather conditions. To optimize your fishing:

- Check the Weather: Some fish are more likely to appear during specific weather conditions, such as rain or fog.
- Fishing Times: Certain species can only be caught during specific hours, such as early morning or late evening.

Completing your Fishing Log can be a daunting task, but it is immensely satisfying. Here are some tips to help you complete it:
