What Are the Gravity Falls Journal Pages?

The Gravity Falls journal pages are a collection of writings and sketches created by Stanford Pines, also known as Grunkle Stan's twin brother. Throughout the series, these pages reveal various secrets about the town, its strange inhabitants, and the supernatural events that occur there. The journals are central to the narrative, as they guide the main characters, Dipper and Mabel Pines, in their adventures and investigations. Stanford's meticulous documentation reflects his deep understanding of the mysteries surrounding Gravity Falls and serves as a warning about the dangers that lurk in the shadows.

There are three journals featured in the series, each containing unique entries and illustrations that contribute to the overarching plot. The journals are numbered chronologically, with Journal 1 being the first and containing the foundational knowledge of the town's anomalies. Journal 2 introduces more complex creatures and events, while Journal 3 ties together many plot points and reveals critical information about the main antagonist, Bill Cipher.

Contents of the Gravity Falls Journal
