Plot Summary

"Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire" begins with Harry returning to Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry for his fourth year. The story unfolds as Hogwarts hosts the Triwizard Tournament, a prestigious competition that involves three magical schools: Hogwarts, Beauxbatons, and Durmstrang. Unexpectedly, Harry's name is mysteriously entered into the Goblet of Fire, making him the fourth competitor despite being underage. This sets off a series of events filled with peril and intrigue.

The tournament consists of three dangerous tasks, each designed to challenge the champions' magical skills and courage. Alongside Harry, we meet other champions: Cedric Diggory from Hogwarts, Fleur Delacour from Beauxbatons, and Viktor Krum from Durmstrang. Each task intensifies the competition and deepens the relationships between the characters, while also revealing hidden agendas and darker forces at play.

As the tournament progresses, Harry faces not only magical challenges but also the threat of Voldemort's return to power. The climax occurs during the final task when Harry and Cedric touch the Triwizard Cup together, only to find themselves transported to a graveyard where Voldemort is resurrected. This shocking turn of events marks a significant moment in the series, shifting the tone from youthful adventures to a more serious confrontation with evil.
